DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the appeal brief filed on December 13, 2007, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. A new ground of rejection is set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

- (1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,
- (2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claim 1 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 25 of U.S. Patent No. 5,952,065. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 25 of Mitchell et al. falls within the scope of Applicant's claimed invention. See col. 18, lines 45-64, col. 9, lines 23-25 and col. 14, line 66-col. 15, line 14 (Applicant's terminology "thermoplastic polyurethane" includes polyurethane thermoplastic elastomers).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

5. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regard to claims 1 and 4, the term “combination” (line 4 of claim 1; line 2 of claim 4) renders the claims indefinite because the scope delineated by the recitation of a “combination” of polymers A and B is broader than the scope delineated by the disclosure, which appears to be limited to a blend of polymers A and B. The word “combination” should be replaced with --blend-- so that the scope delineated by the claims corresponds to the scope of compositions disclosed in the disclosure.

In further regard to claim 1, the phrase “at least one” (line 4, immediately before “aliphatic thermoplastic polyurethane”), when read along with “up to about 50 wt. %” (line 6), renders the claim indefinite because it cannot be ascertained whether or not Applicant intends to require that aliphatic thermoplastic polyurethane be a component of the first layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical

Art Unit: 1794

Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

7. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mitchell et al. (USPN 5,952,065).

The applied reference has a common assignee and inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention “by another,” or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

In regard to claim 1, claim 25 of Mitchell et al. reads on Applicant’s claimed invention (col. 18, lines 45-64, col. 9, lines 23-25 and col. 14, line 66-col. 15, line 14 [Applicant’s terminology “thermoplastic polyurethane” includes polyurethane thermoplastic elastomers]).

In regard to claim 2, a cushioning device having a first layer having an amount of polyurethane that falls within the range recited in claim 2 falls within the scope of claim 25 of Mitchell et al. (claim 25).

In regard to claim 3, Mitchell et al. teach that the materials recited in claim 3 are suitable materials for the second layer (col. 9, lines 31-41).

In regard to claim 4, Mitchell et al. teach thickness ranges for the respective layers that overlap with those recited in claim 4 (col. 5, lines 62-65 and col. 15, lines 23-50).

Art Unit: 1794

In regard to claim 5, Mitchell et al. teach that the device comprises nitrogen as a capture gas constituent (col. 2, lines 22-67).

In regard to claim 6, a cushioning device having a first layer having an amount of polyurethane that falls within the range recited in claim 6 falls within the scope of claim 25 of Mitchell et al. (claim 25).

In regard to claim 7, Mitchell et al. teach the EVOH claimed in claim 7 (col. 9, lines 52-66).

In regard to claim 8, Mitchell et al. teach that the first layer includes an aromatic thermoplastic polyurethane (col. 9, lines 52-66).

In regard to claim 9, a cushioning device having a first layer having amounts of polyurethane and EVOH that falls within the range recited in claim 9 falls within the scope of claim 25 of Mitchell et al. (claim 25).

In regard to claim 10, Mitchell et al. teach a cushioning device having the third layer as claimed (col. 12, lines 24-38 and col. 9, lines 31-41).
